

Who We Are, What We Do

The Corporate Pro Bono (CPBO) project is the global in-house initiative of Pro Bono Institute (PBI) and the premiere resource for legal departments interested in building or expanding their pro bono programs. Since 2000, the CPBO project has offered support to in-house lawyers and legal departments, providing confidential consultation services, online resources, trainings, surveys, research materials, and onsite pro bono clinics. To learn more, visit www.probonoinst.org/corporate-pro-bono/.

How We Can Help

Thought Leadership

Insights on pro bono and access to justice through The PBEye blog and the Pro Bono Happy Hour Podcast.

Consultations

Free, confidential technical assistance to help legal departments of all sizes.

Resources

Sample documents, infographics, & webinars covering topics such as metrics and volunteer engagement.

Recognition

CPBO honors in-house partnerships through the CPBO Pro Bono Partner Award and the PBI Signatory Showcase.

Corporate Pro Bono Challenge® Initiative

The CPBO Challenge® statement is a simple, voluntary commitment to pro bono service.

Benchmarking

Annual CPBO Challenge Reports and biennial Benchmarking Reports analyze data on in-house pro bono participation.

Convenings

PBI's Annual Conference and other gatherings give in-house counsel opportunities to learn and build partnerships.

Industry Days of Pro Bono Service

EmPOWERing Pro Bono Day event (electric and gas companies) and the Financial Institution Pro Bono Day® event.

Community

The CPBO Community Leaders Group connects in-house pro bono leaders in a peer-to-peer network to exchange best practices, share ideas, and engage in candid discussion.